Realty Board's Activity in Sewer Bond Fight Means Much to the City

WE CAN think of nothing which would mean more to a successful termination in the voting of the Glendale sewer bonds than the step taken yesterday by the Glendale Realty board in getting actively into the fray.

No organization is as well equipped nor more vitally interested than the one whose members gain their livelihood through the sale of real estate. With the knowledge that Glendale is soon to have sewers we may all look for a rapid rise in values and unprecedented activity in the building line. A negative vote we hate to contemplate.

ANY citizen who for any reason objects to the present plan of securing a sewer is either not fully acquainted with facts or has not the interest of Glendale at heart.

We have heard many reasons given by those against the sewers, but even for the sake of argument, admitting their truth, added all together they prove insignificant along side the harm that will result if the bonds are not voted.

AT THE mass meeting held on Tuesday night only one citizen actively talked against the sewers. Although there were probably several others in attendance who agreed with him, they remained silent. Mr. John S. Knox was the citizen who came out openly against the proposition and he should not be censured for expressing his honest opinion. We are acquainted with Mr. Knox and know him to be conscientious, but we feel he is taking a wrong stand on this question and letting his ambition for Glendale to be a part of a city headed towards the goal of one of the world's largest cities, warp his judgment.

HOWEVER, we much prefer that opponents of the sewer come out in the open and voice their sentiments rather than to whisper around the streets, giving no opportunity for their objections to be met through counter arguments. Knowing Mr. Knox as we do we believe by taking him into our confidence and going over the entire figures available regarding the fact that annexation to Los Angeles will be of no avail in acquiring a sewer, he can be won over and be as ardent a supporter for the bonds as he is at present against them.

WE BELIEVE now that the realty board has become active and engaged in the work we have less generality and more facts. A signed statement given out by them will receive the careful consideration of both friend and foe. Both sides of the question should be thoroughly and quickly gone into and a frank and true statement submitted, this to be signed by the realty board, which all have confidence in.

WE THINK it would be well for our city officials to stay out of the fight. They are supposed to be only the representatives of the people. As far as we can see their activity so far has caused more strife than anything else. This is a proposition which must be met by the mass of the people themselves and a way to convince them of their truth we are quite sure the bonds will carry by a big margin over the necessary two-thirds majority.

EAGLE ROCK AUTO STRUCK BY L. A. TRUCK IN GLENDALE

Mrs. C. A. Schneissinger of Eagle Rock reports as follows about a collision which occurred about 5:45 p. m., yesterday: "I was driving north on Brand boulevard in Glendale at a moderate rate of speed and collided with a truck driven by H. J. Houk of 712 South Main street, Los Angeles. He drove out of Elk avenue at an excessive rate of speed." The damage was fortunately slight and neither driver was injured. Could not this be appropriately designated "A Tale of Three Cities," with apologies to Charles Dickens?

REALTY BOARD'S IN FIGHT HEAD OVER HEELS

Takes Over Canvassing Work and Getting Voters to Polls

The Glendale realty board jumped head over heels into the fight for the sewer bonds at its meeting Wednesday noon. Definite plans for visiting every home in Glendale were laid, the precinct campaign captains were appointed, and preliminary plans for getting out the voters on election day were formed.

This work of canvassing the city and getting the voters to the polls will be conducted entirely by the Glendale realty board, which has been quietly making plans for its work in this regard, as well as along other lines. Cameron D. Thom is chairman of the special sewer committee of the board and C. W. Ingledue has been named as chairman of the precinct campaigns. The other members of the sewer committee are L. H. Wilson, C. W. Ingledue, Mable L. T. Tight, J. I. Wernette, J. M. Boland, W. L. Truitt, W. L. Twining and O. M. Newby. The various precinct captains are as follows: Precinct 1, Charles B. Guthrie; No. 2, T. R. Crowell; No. 3, Twining & Myers; No. 4, A. H. Twining; No. 5, Mrs. E. L. Foor and J. W. Pearson; No. 6, E. P. Hayward and Mrs. Stewart; No. 7, W. L. Truitt; No. 8, O. M. ## DIPHTHERIA TEST FOR ALL GLENDALE CHILDREN

An announcement of a very important movement to make Glendale immune to diphtheria has just been made by City Health Officer Dr. G. Kaemmerling. He states that beginning the first of January the health department of the city will be prepared to make the Schick's test to ascertain whether persons are immune to diphtheria or not, and to all children not immune the department will give anti-toxin treatment for diphtheria. This treatment will be offered to all the children of the city whether they are the offspring of wealthy or indigent parents.

Dr. Kaemmerling declares that the administration of this anti-toxin will give permanent immunity against diphtheria; that it has been thoroughly tested by the government and pronounced an efficient preventive of this dread disease, also perfectly harmless. While the administration of this anti-toxin will not be obligatory, the doctor hopes that all parents will avail themselves of it. "If," said he, "every child susceptible to this disease in the city would avail himself or herself of this treatment, we could rid Glendale of diphtheria forever."

When asked for details in regard to the treatment, he said: "The administration covers three treatments with hypodermic injections five days apart, and very little discomfort is experienced. The expense will be actual cost plus 10 percent, the charge for the entire treatment running from $1.75 to $2. The health department is very anxious that all parents should avail themselves of this opportunity and thus cooperate in the stamping out of diphtheria in the community. The campaign will be started immediately after the holidays."

LAP ROBE STOLEN FROM AUTO OF N. J. CAMPBELL

"HALF WAS NOT TOLD US" SAY DR. JACK ANDERSON'S FOLK

Dr. Jack Anderson of 104 West California avenue has been accused of prevarication. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, arrived recently from Troy, New York, and accuse him of not having told them half of the truth about Glendale. "I used to think that you were exaggerating," asserted Mr. Anderson to his son, "but now I see I was mistaken." They were accompanied upon the trip by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowland and their two children, Virginia and George. A home has been purchased at 452 Pioneer drive for the new arrivals.

GLENDALE FOLK RESPONDING HEARTILY

Yoakum Family's Pitiful Plight Brings Many Donations

"Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me." Matt. 25:40. Practical Christianity is being demonstrated in the immediate response of generous-hearted citizens to the relief of at least one needy family in Glendale. Christmas may not be so dreary for Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yoakum and their nine children after all. At least they will have a greater affection than before for their adopted community—Glendale.

Since yesterday's issue of the Glendale Press reported the bare facts concerning this family, a steady caravan of automobiles has wended its way to the little shack, in one of this city's best residential districts and each machine has brought its donation for the family's welfare.

Before local generosity had subsided the little house, which was barren and cheerless as a cell, is expected to be completely furnished. Chairs, beds, rugs, carpets and many other articles of furniture are being delivered and more are desired.

FOOTBALL BOYS WILL DEVOUR 10 TURKEYS

All Three Teams of Grid Warriors to Be Out in Force

Ten sixteen-pound turkeys will be "guests of honor" tonight at the banquet being given in the social hall of the Central Christian church, commencing at 6:30, by local business men to "pigskin chasers" of Glendale Union High school.

The epicurean jazz chorus is expected to number between 250 and 300 "gobblers" who will be led by Toastmaster W. E. Hewitt. Harmonies will consist of the click of knives and the tap of forks against plates, the rattle of spoons against saucers, the thud of discarded turkey bones and the gurgling of throats in unison.

The Glendale Rainbow orchestra also will add further jazz. This is composed of Wallace Haines and Norman Nelson, saxophones; Arthur Cressey, drums; Henry Grace, piano; Clifford Wolcott, banjo; Ivan Dow, cornet; and Wesley Pomeroy, singer. All are students at the High school. They will provide a program of popular numbers.

The program will open with the singing of the first verse of "America." This will be led by Attorney Owen Emery. Herbert Henning will be the accompanist. Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, will say grace. Invitations have been sent out to most of the boys who came out for football this season. W. L. Truitt, chairman of the invitation committee, stated this morning that any football players who fail to receive invitations should come to the banquet anyhow. Boys who

GLENDALE BOOSTERS AT MEETING OF THE VALLEY C. OF C.

A rousing meeting of the combined chambers of commerce of the San Fernando valley was held at the town of Glendale, out on the Ventura highway, Tuesday night. Glendale was represented by L. T. Rowley, George Bentley and L. H. Wilson, all live boosters for this city.

At this meeting the principal speakers were Boyle Workman, president of the Los Angeles city council; City Attorney Stephens of Los Angeles; Supervisor Wright of this district; Past President Holliday of the San Fernando valley chambers of commerce; Mr. Moody, a prominent official of the Los Angeles power and light department, and Mr. Eldridge, also a prominent official of Los Angeles.

As this was the annual meeting of this organization the following officers, to serve for the ensuing year, were elected: President, Dr. W. H. Gumbros of Owensmouth; first vice president, W. E. Hodges of Mission Acres; second vice president, H. H. Breit of Tujunga; secretary and treasurer, John O. Reinforce of Lankershim. During the evening many things of interest to the valley as a whole and to the various localities in particular were discussed and a lively time was reported by the delegates from Glendale. Although the meeting did not adjourn until about 1 o'clock, "L. H." vows there was nothing there but "good spirits."

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS AT FUNERAL SERVICE

DR. HARROWER SANTA CLAUS ASSISTANT

Takes Charge of Letters to Good Old Saint From the Kiddies

The Exchange club now has in its membership an assistant to Santa Claus.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower of 920 East Broadway, chairman of its Christmas cheer committee, is now taking charge of all letters received through the local postoffice addressed to Kris Kringle.

Five thousand letters have been mailed for him, calling attention to the performance of "Oh-Oh" Saturday night in the new high school auditorium which is being staged for the benefit of the club's Christmas fund.

About a score of letters from tiny tots are receiving attention. Excerpts from some of them follow:

Mildred is somewhat modest in her requests. She writes: "Dear Santa, I want a rag doll and some little chairs and a table."

Bernadine also will be easily satisfied. Her sole request is for a wagon. As long as Mr. Claus is making the trip all the way from the North Pole, Keith believes that he should come well loaded. He writes: "Please bring me an electric train and a drum and some candy and nuts."

Assurance that he has been a good boy is contained in the letter from Roy, who wants an electric train and promises to leave a bowl of jelly on the parlor table for Santa. He says he is sorry that there is no chimney, but that he will leave the door open. "I haven't forgot to wash my teeth," he writes, "or say my prayers."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE DRAWS MANY TO LOS ANGELES

Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock teachers are today in Los Angeles attending the annual institute of the California Teachers' association, Southern Branch.

The general session opened this morning at the Bible Institute. Following a musical program, lectures were delivered by Dr. Eugene Davidson of the University of Illinois, and Dr. W. G. Bagley of Columbia University. At the Philharmonic auditorium speakers were Dr. E. W. Chubb of Ohio University and Dr. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University. At the Trinity auditorium, addresses were delivered by Dr. Ross L. Finney of the University of Minnesota and Prof. C. G. Sargent of Colorado Agricultural college.

A business meeting is in session this afternoon at Trinity auditorium at which the report of the elections committee will be heard and the president-elect will be introduced.

The Home Economics association, which has several members in Glendale (will have a banquet at 6:30 today in the Mary Louise tea room. Commercial teachers had lunch together at noon today at the City club; English teachers had dinner at the Elite cafe, and kindergarten teachers enjoyed lunch at the Mary Louise tea room.

About 10,000 teachers are attending the institute, including more than 6000 from the city of Los Angeles. Five counties are represented. Speakers include 100 of the most noted educators in America. "Education as a Factor in the Distribution of Wealth" was the title of an address last night at the Bible Institute by Dr. Ross L. Finney of the University of Minnesota. This followed a musical program given by students of Central Junior High school of Los Angeles.

A sight-seeing tour has been arranged for the teachers about the harbor and industrial district of Los Angeles.

W. H. DIXON, INJURED IN WEBB'S STORE, AT WORK AGAIN

Dr. E. T. Remmen, called upon to render first aid to W. H. Dixon, who narrowly escaped very serious injury at the store of H. S. Webb the early part of the week, reports that Dixon, who lives at 615 North Orange Grove avenue, Burbank, made a rapid recovery and is again at work. He fell ten feet through an open elevator shaft from the first floor to the basement below, but suffered only a sprained wrist and a cut upon his nose. The doctor considers his patient was very fortunate as a broken leg, or worse injuries, might easily have been sustained.

GLENDALE DADS IN REGULAR MEETING

Bids for Big Reservoir Opened; Auto Camp Considered

The opening of bids before the Glendale city council this morning for the supplying of a 15,000,000 gallon redwood reservoir showed twenty firms interested. The bids ranged from a high figure of $130,000 for excavating and $18,737 for roofing, down to $61,150 for excavating and $16,500 for roofing. The difference between the high and the low bids was $70,587.

This reservoir will be constructed at the corner of Tenth and Western for the supplying of water for the Grand View section. These bids were referred to the superintendent of plant and production for checking and report.

Bids were opened for street work on Hill drive, Watson court, Elm avenue and Sycamore Canyon road, and were referred for checking. A demand that the auto camp at the corner of Riverdale and San Fernando, which is claimed, is being operated without a license, be closed, was made by the West Glendale Protective association.

Attorney Ansapach representing H. Holland, owner of the camp, stated that the writ of review which permitted the past owners to operate, was withdrawn on suggestion.

FIVE HUNDRED ESSAYS IN REALTY BOARD SEWER CONTEST

Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, states that there has been a big response on the part of High school students to the offer made by the Glendale Realty board of nine cash prizes for the best essays on the advantages of the sewer system proposed for Glendale, for which citizens will have opportunity to vote bonds January 8.

Five hundred manuscripts had been submitted when the contest closed yesterday and these will be placed in the hands of judges without delay. The selection of winners will be a task far from easy, but it is expected they will finish in time for announcement of the winners to be made at the next meeting of the board, Wednesday, December 26.

President Hanson is delighted with the interest shown by students and with the quality of the essays turned in. He believes they will be a great educating force in securing the passage of the bonds. If they have been written in sincerity and represent the sentiment in the homes of the writers, they reveal an intelligent understanding of the situation which should insure many votes.

The headquarters of the special sewer committee of the Realty board will be at the board headquarters in the Central building.

COOLIDGE CLUB IS LAUNCHED AT MEETING

Greatest Enthusiasm is Manifested by Those Present

With tremendous enthusiasm, Glendale's "Coolidge for President club" was well launched Wednesday evening at a meeting held at the high school, and manned with efficient officers and committees who can be depended upon to make it an effective organization.

W. E. Evans called the assembly to order and was elected temporary chairman. Mrs. E. W. Hayward being elected temporary secretary. On instruction of the meeting the chairman appointed a committee to nominate permanent officers and suggest a name for the club. This committee was composed of John Robert White, chairman, Thomas D. Watson, A. T. Cowan, J. C. Sherer, R. F. Person and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt. The committee retired and during its absence from the auditorium, speeches eulogizing Calvin Coolidge and his policies were made by R. L. McCourt, G. B. Woodbury, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. Thomas D. Watson and Captain D. Ripley Jackson.

On the return of the nominating committee, A. T. Cowan as its secretary read the report, viz., that the organization be known as "Coolidge for President club of Glendale," and that the following officers be elected: W. E. Evans, president; Mrs. John Robert White, first vice president; Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, secretary; Mrs. Thomas D. Watson, assistant secretary; J. C. Sherer, treasurer. This report was unanimously adopted and President Evans was instructed to appoint vice president in addition to Mrs. White, and

GLENDALE ROTARIANS VOTE $100 TO THE FLOAT FUND

The weekly noonday meeting of the Glendale Rotary club was held today at the Egyptian Village cafe. Taking into consideration the fact of the holiday season, the attendance was extremely good, with quite a number of visitors present.

Ed Hewitt, president of the Glendale chamber of commerce, gave a talk on the coming sewer bond election, after which several members volunteered to assist in the canvassing of voters to see that all get to the polls.

President Karr called the members' attention to the Christmas party to be given by the Rotarians on Thursday, December 27, at the Tuesday Afternoon club house. Attention was also called to reception to be given by the Los Angeles Rotary club on Saturday, January 8, at the Biltmore hotel. Thirty-five members signified their intention of attending. Secretary Olin announced that the last meeting was another 100 percent session in attendance.

A beautiful basket of red roses was received from Mrs. Edith Huntley, wife of Jack Huntley, who was a member of the club. A letter also received from Mrs. Huntley contained a $10 check which she requested should be used for charitable purposes.

The club voted to give $100 toward payment for the float which will be entered in the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena on New Year's Day.

A Christmas card was received from "Daddy" Allen, while Ed Nisile gave each of the members a valuable clothes brush and C. H. Kirkman favored each of the "boys" with a date book for 1924, on the cover of which was printed in gold the name of the one to whom it was presented. The initial singing of the song, "Rotary Christmas Song," composed by "Dick" White, took place at this meeting. It was sung to the tune of "Jingle Bells."

Glendale's Sewer EXPERT INFORMATION FURNISHED DAILY ON THIS GREAT PROJECT

(In this column will appear from day to day, comments on the sewer project, which is the biggest thing that has ever confronted the citizens of Glendale, also articles prepared by the publicity committee of the sewer committee of the chamber of commerce which may be considered as expert information.)

J. E. Barney, 131 South Brand, reitor: "We simply must have sewers—they are absolutely essential for the continued growth and progress of Glendale. Without sewers we cannot expect to have hotels or any other large buildings. I know of several large builders who would come in here if Glendale had sewers. They are holding off to see how the coming election turns out."

H. J. Blackmore, reitor, 301 Lawson building: "I am in favor of the sewers 100 per cent. They are absolutely essential. The big investors will come in here with a rush if the bonds are voted, and they will bring a lot of money with them. If the bonds are turned down these men will stay out."

ARNOLL SPEAKS ON INDUSTRIES TO C. OF C.

Says Glendale Needs Them to Hold Her Population

"Unless you experience industrial growth and provide jobs for the thousands who are coming here you are liable to have one of two things—a movement back to the east or a horde of unemployed who are unable to make the payments on their homes and will have to forfeit everything they have paid on them." With this assertion A. G. Arnoll, head of the industrial department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, began his address before the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at the Egyptian Village cafe Wednesday noon.

He continued: "Your problems and the problems of Los Angeles are linked. The two cities cannot operate independent, one of the other. The building program is the biggest thing in Southern California. If it drops off, 30,000 heads of families will be out of work. The march back to the east will then start, if there are not enough industries. We do not want this to take place."

"During the next few months hundreds of industries are coming from the east and Glendale should get her share. The land in Los Angeles is becoming too valuable. For this reason they will have to move out into the suburbs. We want our property to grow, but we want it to grow on a firm foundation. We should take care of these industries after they have once been established. They will help pay our taxes and in return we can make money for them. If industries come here and fall they are worse than none at all. An industry should be able to stand on its own feet—if it does not we do not want it."

At this meeting W. D. McDill explained an educational program that will be put on at the board meetings this winter, and W. L. Truitt called attention to the banquet that will be held for the football boys tonight.

UNBELIEVABLY LARGE GIFT PROBLEM IS CHRISTMAS TRADE QUICKLY SOLVED BY ACCESSORIES

Mr. Smith, general manager of Pendroy's store, says the Christmas trade they have enjoyed has been almost unbelievable. When he joined the staff and heard the stories of Christmas sales last year he was inclined to discount them, not being able to credit such returns from a small city; but the results this year have convinced him that Glendale is the wonder city and that before next Christmas an enlargement of the store to accommodate more goods will probably be necessary. The trade has been almost double that of last year and in all departments. In the women's department, which is on the second floor, a lull is always expected during the holiday season but it did not come this year and no clerks could be spared from there to help out on the main floor. Instead 28 new salesmen and saleswomen had to be employed and even then they were not numerous enough to meet all the demands of customers. Mr. Smith has become one of the most ardent boosters Glendale has ever received as a citizen.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS

Charles Farnham of 316 North Louise is now able to be back at work after a week's illness.

Mrs. Mollie Shaver of Salem, Oregon, is spending the holidays with her niece, Mrs. C. W. Houston of 440 Myrtle street.

Jack Galvin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Galvin of 1344 North Columbus avenue, and who has been very seriously ill for the past four weeks is now very much better, but is not yet able to be out of bed.

Philip Wernette, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette of 225 South Central avenue, is to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents. He is a student at the University of California at Berkeley.

Robert Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holland of 518 Kenneth road, is home for the holidays. He is attending the University of Arizona at Tucson. Miss S. C. Bradley, Mrs. Holland's niece, who is teaching in the school for the deaf at Tucson, is also home.

Miss Elizabeth Mottern of 211 North Adams street is to take part in the Community Service Christmas program at Echo Park on Friday night. She will sing "Holy Night." Miss Mottern took part in a program given by the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles at Liberal Arts last week, singing a solo from the "Messiah."

Recent out-of-town visitors registered at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse include Mrs. W. C. Great-house of Santa Cruz, Frank Slaver of Hamilton, Mo., Helen M. Torbitt of Lincoln, Neb., Glenn Kantner of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Wm. Marshall of Galesburg, Illinois, Cannon Ball Baker of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. H. M. Porter of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Emily L. Austin of Seattle.

Miss Nellie Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rowe of 216 South Orange street, is to come home from Redlands University on Friday to spend the holiday season with her parents.

Leslie McReynolds, who is a junior at Berkeley, returned Sunday to his home on North Kenwood, and will be in Glendale until January 14. He has made a fine record in athletics and has been voted into the swimming team and the boxing team of the university, which is quite an honor in a school of that size. He is not losing any time while here as he is working as one of the extras on the post-office force.

MONTROSE NOTES

The big "jolly-up" given Wednesday evening by the Verdugo Hills Post, American Legion, was in every way one of the biggest functions of the month. Over one hundred and fifty persons attended the party. An excellent program was given, which included a number of interesting talks by prominent Legion men, and some very clever impromptu singing. A list of special honor guests invited to the affair included Mayor Phil Dodson of South Pasadena, commander of the Los Angeles County Inter-post council of American Legion; Colonel Leroy Smith of Los Angeles, the American Legion contact officer; Judge D. S. Stafford of Covina, chairman of the hospitalization committee; Captain Harry E. Lindsley of Los Angeles; Mr. Allan Bixby, prominent banker of Pasadena; J. L. Brown, president of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce; Mark S. Collins, president of the La Crescenta improvement association. Special invitations were also issued to the Glendale and Torrance and men of these organizations turned out strong to enjoy the first entertainment to be staged by the new post. Following the program refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed. For those who did not care to dance card tables were provided and other pleasant diversions.

W. C. Harris and family have arrived here from Torrance, Calif.

Auto Supplies Add New Sphere to Christmas Shopping
So widespread has the interest developed in motoring that the coming Christmas will be marked as an Automotive Christmas. For many years the value and appropriateness of automobile supplies has been overlooked in the preparation of the lists for the distribution of Christmas gifts.

This year, however, Christmas has a different meaning for automobile owners, for there are thousands of new car owners proud of their new acquisition, while the owners of the cars a year or so old still gaze with a feeling of pride upon their cars, as well. Both the owners of the new and old cars want to improve the appearance of their machines and as a result both friends and relatives are finding the most useful and appreciated gifts are those which have to do with the motor car.

Gifts of every conceivable kind are included in the offerings featured for the car owner, and they run the entire range of things useful and beautiful for the adornment of the car.

There is such an endless array of equipment dear to the heart of the motorist that it is extremely hard to decide upon a present that is practical. The prices, too, are varied, so that there is a suitable present for every pocketbook. It is simply a matter of selecting some article of equipment that his car now lacks, no matter what the selection may be, it is certain that it will be appreciated.

Those without cars are showing their appreciation to their motoring friends who have taken them on week-end excursions to the mountains or beaches, by giving them a tire, perhaps a sun visor or a spotlight.

Complete as the car may seem there are still many fittings that are lacking to give the maximum of enjoyment and comfort to motoring. Among the most popular selections are such acceptable gifts as motometers, clocks, cigar lighters, rear view mirrors, windshield wipers, flower vases, driving gloves, spotlights, melodious horns, robes, luncheon sets, thermos bottles, theft signals, and all manner of camping equipment.

That this is truly to be an automotive Christmas is evidenced by a survey of activities in the Western Auto Supply company's automotive department store in this city, where hundreds of motor automotive gifts.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

The Christmas entertainment to be given by the members of the Community church on Sunday evening, December 23, promises to be of unusual interest. The affair will be a pantomime dramatization of Van Dyke's "Other Wise Man," under the direction of H. Carter Moore. The cast of characters are "Mary," Miss Edith Bush; "Three Wise Men," A. C. Cox, Simon Bickel and J. Martin; "Artaban," Robert Kelso; Hebrew mother, Mrs. Ida Greenburg; Roman soldier, Ward Van Dusen; slave girl, Mary Ann Howard; soloist, Mrs. Elmer Brown and Mrs. H. Carter Moore; accompanist, Mrs. C. W. Angier. Special electric arrangements have been planned and specially arranged music to illustrate the story has been written. The program begins promptly at 7:30 at the Community church on West Montrose avenue. The Christmas tree and celebration for the children of the church will be held during the Sunday school hour Sunday morning.

Mrs. Harry N. Fowler arrived from Chicago last Monday and is now domiciled in her home on Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues. Mr. Fowler was detained in Chicago, but hopes to join Mrs. Fowler some time in January.

Members of the Parent-Teacher association are receiving congratulations for the splendid Christmas entertainment sponsored by them at the school auditorium Tuesday evening. The costumes worn by the children were made by the mothers largely, and furnished by the P-T. A. They will be kept for future occasions and are the beginning of a costume room for the local schools. At the close of school for the holidays there was an average attendance of 420 pupils, 330 at the La Crescenta building and 90 at Montrose.

nia. They are greatly impressed with the beauty of the hill region and declare it their intention to make their home in this vicinity.

Mr. Eugene Killion, manager of the Reinhard grocery store, has disposed of his property in Verdugo Woodlands and will make his home in Montrose.

Next Sunday will mark the climax to a very strenuous and successful membership drive which has been under way the past two weeks, conducted by the Montrose-La Crescenta Methodist community church. Rev. Durr, pastor, states that members will be taken into the church Sunday, and any not affiliated at this time with other churches will be welcomed. Eleven o'clock is the hour set for the meeting. Sunday school will be held as usual at ten.

No man ever attains such a high position but some one will call him down.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH TO OBSERVE AGE OLD CUSTOM

Following an age-old custom that has existed in the Episcopal church and the Church of England from time immemorial, midnight services will be held on Christmas Eve in St. Mark's Episcopal church at Harvard and Louise streets.

The service will consist of a celebration of the Holy Communion and a sermon by the rector, Rev. Philip K. Kemp. It will commence at 11:30 p. m., with the processional and ante-communion service, with the communion proper coming shortly after midnight. Special Christmas hymns and antiphons will be sung by the vested choir, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Parker.

As this is the only service of its kind being held in Glendale, it is expected that there will be a large attendance. All residents of Glendale, regardless of church affiliation, are invited to attend.

On Christmas day there will be another celebration of the Holy Communion and sermon at 10 a. m. The choir will furnish music at this service, also.

On the three following days the communion will be celebrated at 10 a. m. Wednesday is St. Stephen's day, Thursday Holy Innocents' day and Friday St. John the Evangelist's day.

Rev. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's parish, invites all Glendaleans to attend the Christmas services at St. Mark's, either Christmas eve or Christmas morning.

A pastel color scheme was carried out in the floral decorations, which were placed in large silver baskets, and also in the candle sticks, which were also in silver holders. Sprays of holly and the motifs on the place cards suggested the Christmas season.

AS TO LOOPHOLES

A police judge of Pasadena fined a speeder, but the decision was reversed by a higher court. The reviewing authority held that the speeder had not violated the law. There was no question as to the rate at which he had been going. The only question seemed to be as to whether the police had a right to interfere with him. Apparently the police had no such right. If this does not reveal a loophole big enough for a limousine to hurtle through without getting a scratch, the curious lay mind would be glad to have an interpretation.

One provision of the state law is that an arresting officer must be in uniform. Possibly the theory upon which this rests is that the speeder, glimpsing a uniformed figure in the distance, would be recalled to a sense of caution—until he had got 'round the bend. It is a new idea that the authority of the law rests in a suit of clothes. Maybe it is a good idea. At least such will be the opinion of the habitual speeder. If this dangerous offender can be made to behave by the presence of a uniform it is singular that he should have failed to respond to methods even more strenuous.

"Dangerous speed" is forbidden by the state law. Some way of determining what is dangerous speed will have to be devised. There are places where twenty miles an hour would be recklessness, and others where conditions might be such that double this rate, or more, would not subject anybody to peril. But the point is a delicate one, and who is to define the freedom of the speeder? An expert driver on the highway at sixty miles an hour might be less a threat to human bones than another driver holding his machine down to fifteen.

It may be that the law is still to vindicate itself. For the present, in the minds of most people, it has failed to do so. On the contrary, it seems to them to have been made for the protection of the individuals against whom protection is needed.

THE PROSPECTS OF WAR

One European correspondent of good standing sends information accepted by himself as authentic, that Germany even now is definitely preparing for war. According to his information the readiness is to be so complete that the winning of the first battle must be certain, and the victory so overwhelming as to mean the immediate winning of the war.

At about the same time Herr. Stresemann was telling another correspondent that "Germany's disarmament is so near completion that many small nations have a stronger military power than Germany, and that all the disarmament clauses in the Versailles treaty have been fulfilled."

These citations make but one exhibit of the many contradictions that come out of Europe. In the light of the first, Germany may be viewed as competent and ready to overrule all opposition. The other has Germany supine, and supine because utterly denuded of the means not only of aggression, but of defense.

In relation to the economic situation reports are as confusing. Judged by some of these Germany is to be reckoned an industrial giant reaching out to conquer the markets of the world. Judged by others, Germany, starving and hopeless, asks the world for the bread of charity.

DARK HORSE TALK

The statement that Bryan has a candidate up his sleeve, so to speak, may be accepted readily. That the candidate in question is Josephus Daniels has the aspect of a joke. It is possible that Bryan and Daniels are in agreement on the subject of evolution, and that the latter seconds the motion of the former that the theory be rejected, effaced and forgotten. This attitude, portraying a fellow intellectual, might put the democratic leader in a mood to be generous. Unless this be accepted as explanation, it is probable that the rumor will be regarded as baseless.

The United States navy made a splendid record in the world war after it had been permitted to start. The record was due in great measure to Rear Admiral Sims, now retired. He achieved high honor for his part in the work, but from the then secretary of the navy he got nothing but disapprobation. It seemed almost impossible to arouse Secretary Daniels to a sense of the needs of the moment. Sims chafed under the treatment, and when the armistice had been signed, was frank in expressing his opinion, whereby he incurred the open enmity of Mr. Daniels. Despite the attack made upon him by the department, Sims emerged from the ordeal fully justified, his reputation not only safe, but greatly enhanced.

No acceptable authority may be cited as holding Daniels to have made a contribution to the success of the navy. On the contrary he was in constant controversy with naval officers who knew of ships and were versed in the theory of sea fighting. They were all desirous of doing their full duty, and they did not receive from the secretary the support they had a right to expect. So far as the country at large knows Daniels, it is through his connection with the navy. If he were to seek to run on the basis of his accomplishments there, it may be assumed, that even with Bryan urging him, he could not run fast nor far.

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

The attorney general of the United States says that this country "will endure on the rock of law enforcement, or it will perish in the quicksands of lawlessness." By means of this impressive figure he utters a truth so vital that thoughtful minds must accept it. There is no way of evading the forcefulness of it.

There is a singular reign of lawlessness at present. Probably as never before in the history of the land has such an orgy been participated in by citizens who regard themselves as respectable, and who would scorn to be classed as intimates of the underworld. Many such citizens connive with bootleggers to defy the prohibition amendment of the constitution. This is wrong in itself, and it is direful in its influence at undermining all law. If to one class is to be accorded the privilege of defying a statute that they regard as interfering with them, there is not a law on the books that some other class has not equal right to demand shall be set aside as hampering their activities.

Crimes of violence have reached a volume and a boldness such as never had been known before. Doubtless there is direct relation between this circumstance and the wholesale alcoholic assault upon the integrity of the constitution. When the naturally criminal classes observe that the staid and reputable citizen has voluntarily joined the ranks of the law-breakers, and as a rule, is escaping penalty, it would be strange if their tendencies failed to receive an impetus.

Just now there is an outcry against "blue laws." Doubtless much of it is justifiable. Laws made to suit other times, to fit conditions that have passed away, easily become irksome, useless and grotesque. The proper attitude towards such laws is to emphasize the necessity for their repeal. The people of this country do not appear to favor any form of censorship. They appear to resent the curtailment of personal liberties, the exercise of which do no harm. Legislation that is obnoxious because the result it produces is bad should not be allowed to stand. But while it stands, obedience to its mandate is the sure way to reveal its real character and effect.

The warning of the attorney general could not with safety be unheeded. When this ceases to be a government by law it must cease to be a government.

Lots of people who are willing to help bury a dead man wouldn't give a live man a crust of bread.

Never judge a man's worth by the taxes he pays.

DOCTORS' FEES

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

It's a calm day when some phase of the medical question is not the center of discussion.

Just now everybody is agitated about whether or not a doctor who fails to cure a patient should be legally entitled to collect a fee.

I'm full of drastic thoughts on that subject and right here I'm going to relieve the pressure.

I'm sorry for doctors, but I'm a lot sorer for patients. Still doctors are as they are because patients are as they are. If doctors lie—and many of them do—it is because patients do not wish to hear the truth and will too often discharge any doctor who tells it to them.

Besides, medical ethics as they have been understood, taught and practiced in the past are so absolutely dishonest and absurd that the mass of intelligent physicians now laugh at them and the best class of the medical profession ignore them.

If patients flatly refuse to endure the truth, how can any doctor cure them? To be cured we must first know what ails us. If the doctor can't tell us, we have to take the consequences; and when the body is sick those consequences are likely to be grave.

Moreover, most people employ a doctor not because they want to get well, but because they desire to be comfortable. If they can do as they please all the time, and still get well, all right; but if they are compelled to resignate their lives in the interest of health they will simply fire the doctor who tells them so and hire another who will sympathize and humor. This is poor encouragement for honest physicians.

Now we must all admit that in the present state of human knowledge there are many diseases that physicians can not cure, but which they can mitigate. That takes time and skill; and time and skill are worthy of pay.

Before we can deny a doctor his fee because his patient failed to recover it will be necessary in the interest of justice to prove that the failure was the fault of the physician and not of the patient, for when all is said and done, all a doctor can do, aside from surgery, is to tell his patient how to live. The rest is up to the patient.

In the circumstances it seems fair to pay the doctor for his time and advice.

Besides if doctors and preachers did not go about sympathizing with house-bound women we'd probably have more domestic violence than now exists.

Wives of jealous husbands can chat with the medico and the parson without the aftermath of a family row, and that justifies both professions. As long as husbands are mostly warring wives will take to invalidism and religion to relieve the monotony of incarceration.

You may not like this, but it's true.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

The Kid came in to see me today, stepping on his lip as he walked. Three times the Kid has lost his job. Each time he had been assured by his late employer that he was a complete nix. Yet I know the Kid is honest, hard working, energetic, and with plenty of savvy. He had just been mis-cast.

"I'm discouraged," the Kid said, frankly. "I'm beginning to be afraid I'm no good. Seems to me no one could have failed so absolutely if he had had good stuff in him."

So I told him the story of Doc Drury. Doc's father was one of the great physicians of the Middle West. When he died the people of his town honored his memory, but there was almost no estate to administer. Doc had to go to work for himself when he was fifteen years old. Because he had a certain facility in flinging a ball around he became a professional ball player. The inheritance in his blood urged him to study medicine. By and by he became a full fledged doctor.

"I don't know what to do," he said to his best friend and adviser. "I have enough money to carry me through the first two or three years of unproductive practice if I open an office. But I want to make good in baseball."

The best friend said: "You managed Binghamton and finished last. You managed Millersport and finished last. You managed Springfield and finished last. You've proven that you are the most no-account manager in baseball," said his best friend. "Suppose you practise medicine for a while. The law of averages is on your side. You cannot possibly be that rotten in medicine."

So he did. Now he is one of the great physicians of the west. More than that, he is one of the part owners of the Boston team.

The Kid said he would find a new job and try again.

SEATS NOW ON SALE FOR 'OH-HO,' SANTA CLAUS PLAY

This morning seats went on sale for the Santa Claus show. This is "Oh-Ho," to be seen at the new High school auditorium on Saturday night of this week, the show in which all Glendale is vitally interested, as all the money made is going to buy Christmas presents for Glendale's poor boys and girls. "Oh-Ho" is being staged at "rock bottom prices." This show has usually played at two dollar prices. "He show on Saturday night, that everyone may see it, is being given for the price of fifty cents."

Dr. Harrower, chairman of this Christmas party for the Glendale Exchange club means everyone to take in the "Oh-Ho" show. Dr. Harrower said this morning: "The show is worth four times what we are asking for it. It is the best show ever staged in Glendale. The fifty cents admission price is to be immediately seen to see that hundreds of girls and boys all living in Glendale, can have a happier Christmas."

General Hunter Liggett, Admiral Halstead, and General Barnett of the army, navy and marines, were guests of the "Oh-Ho" at "Army and Navy" night in San Francisco. These commanders of Uncle Sam's defenses were loud in their praises of "Oh-Ho." And George Warren, leading dramatic critic of San Francisco wrote in his review that "Oh-Ho" was the best show showing in San Francisco that week, and this included all professional productions.

"Oh-Ho" will be seen for but one evening, one performance only. There are two thousand seats in the new high school auditorium, and every seat is being held at the same price and every seat is reserved. Seats can be reserved at Roberts and Echols' drug store, on Broadway near Brand. That it seems certain the show will completely sell out the high school auditorium, everyone is advised to make their reservations at the very earliest, as the "seats are going like hot cakes."

YOAKUM FAMILY GETS MANY GIFTS

board, a quantity of clothing for the children and about $6 worth of groceries have been received.

Mrs. Frank Motsch of 1451 Ardmore avenue has decided that she could do no kinder act than to give the oldest boy, Frank, the clothing worn by her own 13-year-old son, Frank, who passed away a few weeks ago as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted a year ago.

An offer to supply the family with milk has been made by the Barnes dairy of Burbank.

A cot, a mattress and two comforts have been offered by Mrs. Susie Sullivan of 715 West Fourth street and a large chair has been offered by J. W. Blake of 533 West Lexington drive. These articles and any others which may be donated will be collected upon request and delivered by one of the trucks belonging to this newspaper.

The first mail this morning brought a check for $10 from W. S. Rattray of 286 Kenneth road, who lost no time in responding to the appeal for aid. A subscription taken up among the members of the Daily Press family has resulted in the collection of $25.

W. E. Yoakum started work yesterday upon one of the municipal street gangs. He will remain at this job until more suitable employment can be obtained. He has good references and no doubt will be able to secure an office position in the near future. In fact, a delegation of 20 Masons which crowded into the little cottage last night assured him that they would do all in their power to help him get placed.

Meanwhile a two-day-old baby is forming the first opinion of the world. Mrs. W. E. Yoakum has been so overwhelmed with the community's response in their hour of need that she has been unable to select a name, but out of gratitude is considering naming the infant Glendale.

GLENDALE COUNCIL HAS BUSY MEETING

gestion of the Glendale city attorney.

Discussion brought out the fact that Mr. Holland purchased this camp a week ago, but is at this time operating it without a license. Councilman Davis stated that as the attorney representing the owner of the camp had agreed to withdraw the writ of review, thereby closing the camp, technicalities should not be grasped at. On motion of Councilman Horn the matter was referred to the chief of police and health officer for investigation, and on motion of Councilman Hall the hearing on this matter was set for December 27.

No additional oil service stations will be permitted on Brand boulevard, except on corners, if the evident intention and desire of the council, as voiced at this morning's meeting, are carried out. Following the granting of a permit issued for a station on Brand just north of Colorado, Councilman Davis moved that it be the intention of the council to refuse to issue permits for further stations on Brand. After some discussion Councilman Davis withdrew his motion and moved that the matter be taken up and discussed in the committee of the whole.

The question of permitting business structures on Verdugo road between Wabasso and Opeechee ways, was considered. The deeds to the property along that road, it was stated by those wishing to erect business structures in this stretch, permit stores. The council has changed this to a residential district by ordinance. On motion of Councilman Davis the petition was referred to the city engineer for checking and report next Thursday.

On motion of Councilman Davis the street superintendent was instructed to employ the necessary cement men and repair the streets and sidewalks damaged in the recent wind storm. More than one hundred trees were blown down in that storm, according to the street superintendent.

PENDROY CHRISTMAS TREE TO SHOWER GIFTS FRIDAY

Hundreds of bags of candy will be given away by Santa Claus on Friday morning, between 9 and 11, when he will toss them from the large Christmas tree over the main entrance to Pendroy's store. Each sack contains a generous portion of Christmas candy, and also a ticket which is good for a chance on a wonderful toy, the description of which will not be disclosed by Santa. The chance on the gift is for the boys only, as the girls received their presents last Wednesday from Mrs. Pendroy, but the bags of candy are for both boys and girls.

The boys will write their names and addresses on the ticket, and deposit these in the box just inside the door. The drawing will be held Saturday morning, when the prize, suitable for a large or a small youngster, will be given away.

Every boy and girl in Glendale is urged to be under the Christmas tree tomorrow (Friday) morning, and receive a large bag of candy absolutely free. They were prepared by Santa himself, and are Pendroy's gifts to the children of the city.

The small boy had been celebrating his fourth birthday and had partaken of a 'goodly supply of luxuries.

Tired, but very happy, he knelt down at his mother's knee to repeat his nightly prayer, one line of which was, "Help me to fill my little place."

When he came to this, instead of repeating it as usual, he stopped, and, looking up at his mother, said, "Mother, I don't think I need ask that tonight!"

ANIMATED WEEKLY TO BE SHOWN AT THE GATEWAY

Following are the subjects in the current issue of the Glendale Press-Express Animated Weekly:

Destroying Condemned Scales.—Depicts the breaking up of $40,000 worth of different varieties of weighing devices which had been seized and condemned by the county department of weights and measures during the last year. The scales range in value from a dollar or so up to $350 for the more elaborate computing scales. Some of the weighing devices were merely defective or out of order, but in every case where this obtained the merchant knew of it and was deliberately continuing to use the device. Other cases were deliberate efforts to cheat the customer. Foreigners were the worst offenders, particularly fruit dealers and traveling peddlers.

Wood Block Art.—Depicts the technique of this ancient art which was the forerunner of printing and which has recently had a revival. A local artist is shown carving portraits of Nazimova upon the block, and afterwards transferring it to paper.

The weekly is to show at the Gateway theater on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Modern Version of New Testament

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

"Who was it who touched me?" And as everyone denied having done so, Peter said, "Master, the people are all around you and they are crowding you."

But Jesus said, "Somebody touched me, for I know that power passed from me."

When the woman saw that she had not escaped his notice, she came forward trembling, and fell down before him, and before all the people told why she had touched him, and how she had been cured at once. And he said to her, "My daughter, it is your faith that has cured you. Go in peace."

Even as he spoke someone came from the house of the leader of the synagogue and said,

"Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Master any more."

But Jesus heard it and said to him, "Do not be afraid; just have faith, and she will get well."

When he got to the house, he let no one go in with him but Peter, James, and John, and the child's father and mother. And they were all weeping and beating their breasts for her. But he said,

"Stop weeping! For she is not dead, she is asleep."

And they laughed at him, for they knew that she was dead. But he grasped her hand and called out,

"Get up, my child!"

And her spirit returned and she stood up immediately, and he directed them to give her something to eat. And her parents were amazed, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened.

Then he called the Twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all the demons, and to cure diseases, and he sent them out to proclaim the Kingdom of God and to cure the sick. He said to them,

"Do not take anything for your journey, nor staff nor bag nor bread nor money, nor an extra shirt. Whatever house you go to stay in, remain there, and start on again from it. And where they will not welcome you, leave that town and shake off the very dust from your feet as a protest against them."

And they set forth and went from village to village, telling the good news and curing people everywhere.

Herod the governor heard of all that was happening and he was perplexed because some people said that John had risen from the dead, and some that Elijah had appeared, and others that one of the ancient prophets had come back to life. But Herod said,

"John I have beheaded, but who can this be about whom I hear such reports?"

And he endeavored to see him.

Then the apostles came back and told Jesus what they had done. And he took them and quietly retired to a town called Bethsaida. But the crowds learned of it and followed him, and he welcomed them and spoke to them about the Kingdom of God, and he cured those who needed to be cured. When the day began to decline, the Twelve came up and said to him,

"Send the crowd away to the villages and farms around to find food and shelter, for we are in a lonely place here."

But he said to them,

"Give them food yourselves!"

And they said,

"We have only five loaves and two fish, unless we go ourselves and buy food for all these people." For there were about five thousand men.

But he said to his disciples,

"Have them sit down in groups of about fifty each."

And they did so, and made them all sit down. Then he took the five loaves and the two fish and looked up to heaven and blessed them, and he broke them in pieces and gave them to the disciples to pass to the people. And they all ate, and had enough, and the pieces left over that were gathered up filled twelve baskets.

Once when he was praying by himself, with only the disciples near him, he asked them,

"Who do the people say that I am?"

They answered,

"John the Baptist, though others say Elijah, and others that one of the old prophets has come back to life."

And he said to them,

"But who do you say that I am?"

Peter answered,

"The Christ of God!"

But he warned them particularly not to tell this to anyone, and said,

"The Son of Man must endure great suffering and be refused by the elders, the high priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and be raised to life on the third day."

And he said to everyone,

"If anyone wants to go with me, he must disregard himself, and take his cross day after day and follow me. For whoever wants to preserve his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for me will preserve it. What good does it do a man to gain the whole world and lose or forfeit himself? For if anyone is ashamed of me and my teaching the Son of Man will be ashamed of him, when he comes with all the glory of his Father and the holy angels. I tell you, some of you who stand here will certainly live to see the Kingdom of God!"

It was about eight days after Jesus said this that he took Peter, John, and James, and went up on the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the look of his face changed and his clothes turned dazzling white. And two men were talking with him. They were Moses and Elijah, and they appeared in glory and spoke of his departure which he was to go through with at Jerusalem. Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but waking up they saw his glorious appearance and the two men standing by him. Just as they were parting from him, Peter said to Jesus,

"Master, how good it is that we are here? Let us put up three huts, one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah!" For he did not know what he was saying.

But as he said it, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were frightened as they passed under the cloud. And from the cloud came a voice that said,

"This is my Son, my Chosen! Listen to him!"

At the sound of the voice, they saw that Jesus was alone. And they kept silence, and said nothing about it to anyone at that time.

The next day, when they had come down from the mountain, it happened that a great crowd met him. And a man in the crowd shouted,

"Master, I beg you to look at my son, for he is my only child, and all at once a spirit seizes him, and he suddenly cries out, and it convulses him until he foams at the mouth, and it leaves him, after a struggle, badly bruised. And I begged your disciples to drive it out, and they could not."

Jesus answered,

"O you unbelieving, obstinate people! How long must I be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here!"

Even while the boy was coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him, but Jesus reproved the foul spirit and cured the boy and gave him back to his father. And they were all amazed at the power of God.

While everybody was full of wonder at all that he was doing, he said to his disciples,

"You must store up these teachings in your minds, for the Son of Man is going to be handed over to men."

LITERATURE SECTION HAS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Members of the literature section of the Tuesday Afternoon club who attended the regular meeting in the tea room of the club house on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H. C. Wilcox presiding, will have a better understanding of the true Christmas spirit, due to the inspiration derived from the splendid program given. Each member of the section brought inexpensive gifts for tubercular children in Dr. Brown's clinic at the White Memorial hospital and also jellies, books, etc., for the ex-service men and women at Barlow sanitarium and at Sawtelle. The tea room presented quite a "Christmas" appearance, with the tables piled with Christmas packages and decorated with miniature Christmas trees.

After a short business session in charge of Mrs. Wilcox, the following members answered to roll call with a Christmas thought: Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, Mrs. H. D. Fortier, Mrs. Homer Lockwood, Mrs. Edith Fessenden, Mrs. V. Rapp, Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, Mrs. Helen Sawyer, Mrs. Frankie A. Webb, Mrs. R. W. Mottern, Mrs. J. A. Bolton, Mrs. R. W. Bolton, Mrs. H. S. Garlinghouse, Mrs. J. W. Walton, Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, Mrs. E. Cleophas, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. G. A. Gallagher, Mrs. J. Wernette, Mrs. W. H. Verity and Mrs. G. H. Rowe. The program for the afternoon on "Christmas Giving." Her message was that people should not give gifts with the idea of receiving gifts in return. She said in part: "Why give so much to those not needing it, when such little things make the children and the really needy people happy? Just give Christmas gifts because you love to give."

Mrs. G. H. Rowe gave a beautiful reading of the Christmas story of Bethlehem, at the close of which a Christmas song was given by Mrs. J. M. Cates, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Starkey.

The afternoon closed with a social hour, during which the hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Bolton, Mrs. Homer Lockwood and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, served refreshments of chocolate cake. Hearty Christmas greetings were extended to all by the curators, Mrs. Wilcox.

NAZARENE REVIVAL MEETINGS CLOSE SOON

The evangelistic campaign of the First Church of the Nazarene that has been in progress for the past month at the former Brethren church on South Glendale avenue, is rapidly drawing to a close. The meetings close on Sunday.

This campaign in many respects is the best one that has ever been held in Glendale, some of the Nazarene members think. Rev. Hatfield, who is doing the preaching, has been stressing throughout the whole series of meetings the necessity of full and complete surrender to the whole will of God. According to him that is the greatest need of the churches today.

The services for the remainder of the week give promise of being the best in the whole campaign. It is expected that Sunday will be a great day, as an all-day meeting is being planned.

FASHION CENTER SAYS CHRISTMAS TRADE DOUBLED 1922

Miss Heits of the Fashion Center on South Brand says that her goods trade of last year at Christmas time has been far surpassed by this year's sales and the demand for her pretty house dresses and other stocks of women's wear is keeping up beyond her most sanguine expectations. The buying public likes them because they are pretty and also because they are practical. In November she ordered 50 dozen one-piece house gowns and in December 60 dozen and has had to dispatch a supplementary order for ten dozen more.

In all the departments of the store the same good fortune has been observed with regard to sweaters, millinery, neckwear and gowns. She and her business associates think they found Eldorado when they discovered Glendale.

Express Subscribers to Be Protected by Best $1000 Insurance Policy Issued

The Evening Express today offers to its hosts of subscribers the most surprising comprehensive accident insurance policy ever placed at the service of the public. Its protection to the beneficiary is large and assured. It is given free, premium paid, to Express subscribers with but a nominal registry fee.

A bigger, better and broader policy even than that given applying subscribers by the Express last year—and that is saying much, for tens of thousands of Angelenos testified by prompt subscription and application to the unusual liberality of this last year's Evening Express accident insurance policy.

The extraordinary insurance offer the Express makes to its subscribers from today on covers the pedestrian, the man in the street, as well as the occupant of a conveyance. By taking out a policy with the Express now you will be financially protected in case you are struck, knocked down or run over by a vehicle and suffer any of the losses set forth in the policy.

The list of losses against which insurance is offered and the amount of insurance follow: Life, $1000; both hands, both feet, sight of both eyes, one hand and one foot, one hand and sight of one eye, one foot and sight of one eye, $250; either hand, either foot, sight of either eye, $125.

In addition, if the insured shall during one year from the beginning of the insurance covering be immediately and wholly disabled and prevented from performing any and every duty pertaining to his or her business, $10 a week will be paid for a period not exceeding three months.

Another point: Each consecutive year's renewal of the Express policy will add 10 per cent to the amount payable until such addition reaches 50 per cent of the original amount.

The insured will also be protected in the same amounts in the case of sustaining the specified losses in the wrecking of conveyances.

All these are merely new features of the Express insurance enterprise. The policy being issued from today will, of course, include all the protection offered in last year's policy in case of death or injury while a passenger in or occupant of a vehicle.

Regular subscribers may apply by mail, inclosing 75 cents for registry, if they desire coverage. If you are not now a subscriber to the Express and want to be covered, mail the Express your subscription for a year and inclose 75 cents for registry.

Address Insurance Department, Los Angeles Express, 236 South Hill, Los Angeles.

By FRANCIS W. READ

According to advice in a Los Angeles paper, plans are under way to establish professional football on a large scale in California next fall. San Francisco, Sacramento, Los Angeles, Visalia, Selma and Fresno are suggested as possible cities for these professional football clubs. They could either be one league or two divisions. It seems that prominent baseball men are behind the project and if the plan succeeds, Washington park may be used for the Los Angeles games.

Professional football has been tried many times and in many places, and it has never been a decided success. There are many reasons for this, some of which will be enumerated later. It seems to the writer that it would be folly to attempt to establish here in California professional football on a large scale when it has not succeeded in the small sphere it now holds, and when it has never been what could be called a real success from the financial or athletic standpoint anywhere.

In addition to the fact that it would be an extremely hazardous venture financially, there are other reasons to doubt the wisdom of the plan. It is our opinion that from the point of view of the average fan such a thing as professional football is undesirable. Under the arrangements that have existed for the past few years, there have been plenty of football games to suit the spectator. Every Saturday there is at least one, and usually two college football games in the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles. These games are nearly always real demonstrations of football and in addition to the actual playing there is the college atmosphere of rivalry, something that would be lacking in the professional contests. Then on Friday afternoons there are enough high school games in the vicinity of Los Angeles to please the most discriminating fan and in the past year or so the prep affairs have shown real class. After the regular season is over there are always a couple of postseason games. We believe that this outlay of college and prep games is sufficient for Southern California without the addition of a professional league. Having attended more than 20 games in all this season, which is only a fraction of those held in these parts, the writer can testify that the football contests in this section are sufficiently numerous. There are as many games as the fans can possibly attend and to add more would be bad for the game.

Then, football is known as the sport of the schools and colleges. One of the things that makes the gridiron sport is the atmosphere that goes with the college games. Take away this and you have robbed football of one of its chief attractions. Why is football the most popular collegiate sport? Because it is the only distinctive college game. The others have all been professionalized. If football is commercialized and established on a professional basis it will lose its appeal to the public. However, it is our belief that such a condition will never take place, for we believe that the sporting public will not give professional football the support necessary to establish it on a successful basis.

TROYANS SEEK BIG HOME GAME FOR NEXT YEAR

In spite of the fact that he has been unable to make satisfactory arrangements with the University of Nebraska, Elmer E. Henderson, coach of the University of Southern California football team, has not given up hopes of landing a big home game with an eastern team next year. To date the Stanford affair is the nearest thing to a big home game on the Trojans' schedule. Henderson first tried to get the Cornhuskers to come west, but this was found impossible, and the faculty board refused permission for the Trojans to make the trip because their schedule calls for several long trips to the north.

The Cornhuskers out of the way the Trojan athletic committee has empowered Athletic Manager Gwyn Wilson and Coach Henderson to negotiate with other eastern teams. It is reported on good authority that Henderson is going east after January 1 to secure a game with Syracuse, Penn State, Dartmouth, West Virginia or Colgate for the local open date. All of them are said to be available.

It is thought that Coach Hugo Besdeck of the Nittany Lions is particularly anxious to try for revenge on the Trojans for the whipping they handed Penn state here last New Year's day. Syracuse has signified her willingness to make the trip so long as the game is an intercollegiate one. Washington through its graduate manager Wilson of U. S. C. that there was no chance to get the Huskies here in 1924 as they do not feel under any obligations to return the date the Trojans gave them in Seattle in 1923. That settles the chance for a Trojan-Husky game next year. So things are rather indefinite at the present writing regarding a big home game in 1924.

Many a far-sighted man is a close observer.

NAVY GRIDDERS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE BUT WORKING HARD

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 29.—The Naval Academy football team again put in nearly the whole of the practice period yesterday afternoon with snappy scrimmaging against the second team. The squad has passed the preliminary period in its preparation for the game with the University of Washington at Pasadena on New Year's Day, and is gradually being worked into its final form. There will probably be two more scrimmages this week, the last to be held before the game on the Pacific coast.

The varsity started with McKee, Devens, Cullen and Shapley in the backfield. Barchett was placed a little later, but bumped his nose and was taken out for the day by the coaches. He is not seriously injured, however. Flippin, Ballinger and others were used for a portion of the time behind the line. The practice carried the team through the whole program of offensive plays, both line drives and passes. Shapley was at left tackle this afternoon and Walker at right, while Clyde, who has recently returned to the squad, was on the side lines. The move indicates that Walker is likely to supplant Clyde. He is 15 pounds lighter but very aggressive.

The membership of the squad for the trip will be 85 instead of 22, as previously decided. This will allow for two extra backfield substitutes, and one more in the line.

It very frequently happens that new kid gloves are split the first time they are tried on. This can be prevented by placing them between the folds of a damp towel for an hour or so before they are worn. The moisture stretches the skin, so that the gloves will give to the required shape without splitting.

BURBANK BOUTS ARE FOR CHARITY TONIGHT

TONIGHT'S FIGHT CARD
Harry Whitman vs. Kid George.
Gil Gallant vs. Larry Murray.
Two preliminaries and a good curtain raiser.

It promises to be a hot time at the Burbank armory tonight when the boxing show supervised by Matchmaker Al Barton of the Burbank Athletic club gets under way. The affair is being staged under the auspices of the Goodfellows and the police department, and the entire proceeds will be given to charity.

A number of celebrities will be on the job at the armory tonight. Jim Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion, will be present and has promised to referee one or two bouts. Wad Wadhams of Vernon fame and Tom Kennedy, Hollywood matchmaker, as well as Mike Collins, who was responsible for the Dempsey-Gibbons match at Shelby this summer, will all be out at Burbank to put the show over the top.

Movies will be taken of the evening's doings. A Fox cameraman will be on the job to take shots in the main event, while the silver screen all over the country. Another cameraman will take snapshots that will be exhibited in sporting publications throughout the country.

The bouts themselves look good. Harry Whitman and Kid George should supply plenty of dynamite in the main event, while the semirival bout between Gallant and Larry Murray promises to be good. Two other preliminaries and a first class curtain raiser will be on the card. Indications point to a full house at the armory tonight.

LEGION HOOPSTERS TO PLAY THE HELLMAN
BANK FIVE

Glendale's fast American Legion basketball team will clash this evening with the Hellman bank five of Los Angeles in what promises to be a first-class exhibition of the melon sport. The game will be played in the High school gymnasium and will start at 7:30.

The local Legion quintet is one of the best aggregations of casual chasers in these parts. At the present time it stands at the head of the American Legion loop with two victories and no defeats. The game tonight is not in the Legion loop, but will take the place of the game that was scheduled with the Metropolitan Post of Los Angeles. The Metropolitan boys forfeited to Glendale.

As for the Hellman bank five, they have shown some real class in their games to date, and should give the Legionnaires a real scrap. The bankers have a long string of victories to their credit.

The lineup of the Glendale team is as follows: W. Brown, C. E. Leggett and A. G. Whelan, forwards; W. E. Beach and W. E. Hunter, centers; W. E. Hubbard, Nelson Ed Austin and Harry Painter, guards; William A. Austin, coach.

WASHINGTON GRADS
PLAN WELCOME FOR HUSKIES

University of Washington alumni and former students now living in the vicinity of Los Angeles will meet at a luncheon at the University club of Los Angeles Saturday at 1:30 p. m. to formulate plans for a reception to the University of Washington football team, which meets the Naval Academy eleven at Pasadena on New Year's day. The call for the meeting has been issued by H. O. Browning, president of the local alumni organization of the northern university.

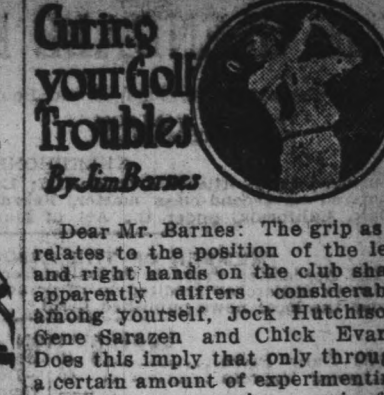

Plans formulated include a tentative reception and rally, probably the night before the annual East-West contest, or the alternative of a dinner-dance the night following the game. In any event, President Henry Suzzaio, the Washington team, Coach Bagshaw and Graduate Manager Darwin Mesmer, will be the guests of honor.

It is particularly desired to get together all former athletes of the University of Washington, men who have won their "W's" in sports, to act as a guard of honor for the official mascot, a giant northern Husky dog.

A special section for Washington alumni and former students has been reserved at the Pasadena Rose Bowl. These tickets can be obtained at the Washington headquarters at 1810 Wright and Calender buildings.

night when Nebraska's invitation and guarantees were accepted. "We have no home games after November 1 and believe that we could make this the big game of the year," read the invitation by telegraph.

The addition to the Beavers' gridiron schedule means that they must leave Corvallis immediately after the game with the University of Oregon next year, which comes on November 22, in order to reach Lincoln for the Thanksgiving game.

Curing
your Golf
Troubles

By Jim Barnes

Dear Mr. Barnes: The grip as it relates to the position of the left and right hands on the club shaft apparently differs considerably among yourself, Jack Hutchinson, Gene Sarazen and Chick Evans. Does this imply that only through a certain amount of experimenting can a person acquire a grip for his own game best suited to his physical build?

Answer: In the final analysis the answer to your question is affirmative. A very careful study of the grips of a number of good players will show that while most of them follow the same general style of gripping the club, they have their own little peculiarities. Furthermore, it is a fundamental fact that the grip must be in a way molded to the stance or the stance molded to the grip, as you choose. Size of hands, method of swing, and even height make for these little differences.

In attempting to lay down any precepts, one must of course, bear in mind that these have to be general. They are intended as guides to give anybody, even a beginner, an idea of the proper methods in starting. As soon as the player has come to the point where he can begin to analyze his game with fair success, he can start in to try out theories and ideas that appear logical and practical for his own use.

Basically a grip that has both hands well under the shaft is bad. The left hand is left powerless, and the right is given full domination. Placing the left more over toward the right helps to strengthen that hand.

At the same time, moving the right further over toward the left cuts down its power. It is really for the player to work out the right adjustment among these for himself, keeping in mind these fundamental facts.

As you say, the player can decide these points, at least as soon as he has gotten a fair grasp of what it is all about. (Copyright, 1923, by Bell Syn., Inc.)

The negro preacher began his sermon with "Bredren and sisters, when de fust man, Adam, was created, he was made outer wet clay and set 'gainst the palm's to dry."

A dissenting member of the congregation arose and said, "Pawson, if Adam was de fust man den who made all de palm's?"

"Bredren Simpkins set down," said the parson disgustedly, "sech fool questions of yours would asect any system of theology."

DR. HARROWER IS SANTA CLAUS AID

she heard of Glendale's Santa and hastened to inform him that she wants a "great big mama and papa and walking doll, and a pair of roller skates and a pair of slippers and a dress and a book and a little doll house and a 'bike' and a Santa Claus suit." A list of toys wanted by her brother is appended also.

"Say, Santa," writes Harriet, "there is a little boy who lives on our street that does not believe in you. But I believe in you and please don't forget to bring me what I want for Christmas."

Little Bennie wants a little shovel to dig worms for the duck. declares "Miss" Lovena. "Calvin wants a bicycle, 'cause he delivers papers."

"I'm a poor little girl and I have no papa and my mama has to work," writes Mary. "We would be glad, Santa Claus, if you remember us on Christmas."

In case there should be any argument about the subject Dorothy writes: "If you would like to know whether I am a girl or boy I will tell you I am a girl."

Although Dorothy wants "a box of paints, a vanity case, a book and a box of stationery, she admits that she will be satisfied with a piano."

Happy New Year greetings are extended to the Claus family by Doris. She wants a "pogo stick and a scooter and some candy and a nice Christmas tree."

"If it isn't too much trouble for your helpers," writes Johnny, "you can give me a few little presents for Christmas."

Confidence in Santa is expressed in the letter of Pansy May, who writes to remind him that she has a sister and brother. She admits that they are all looking forward to his visit.

"Please bring my baby brother a lot of toys," suggests Jack. "I want a pair of house slippers,

RECOLLECTION

Funny I should think of them with eyes all wet with tears;
Funny I should think of them, and after all the years;
Haven't seen a soul of them for twenty years or more,
Yet I see their faces just as clearly as before;
Funny I should hear of them as folks who're old and gray,
In the little home town paper someone sent to me today.

Funny I should look that paper all through line by line,
Finding often here and there some good old friend of mine.
Funny how I got that lump down in my throat just then,
Kind o' one I haven't had in I don't know just when.
Funny how I see the streets and lanes that stretch away
In the little old town paper someone sent to me today.

Funny how the memories of olden days come back,
Buggies creaking down the lane upon a dusty track;
Fellows that I used to know as children long ago,
Old town's leading citizens the boys I used to know.
I've been gone for years and years, but I've read every line
In that little paper from that old home town of mine.

PART OF "DULCY"

SCENERY FILMED IN THE YOSEMITE

Part of "Dulcy," which comes to the Gateway Theatre today, and is Constance Talmadge's latest comedy of married life, was filmed in the Yosemite.

The early sequences of "Dulcy" were made in the Mohave desert near Needles and Barstow, where Mohave and Walapai Indians were used.

Vernal Falls, near Yosemite, was used for the sensational scenes where a young bride, played by Constance Talmadge, attempts suicide over the falls after a trifling quarrel with her hubby.

There is a sterling cast to support Constance, among them Jack Mulhall, who plays the leading role "opposite" the star, as well as Claude Gillipwater, May Wilson, Johnny Harron, Ann Cornwall, Andre de Beranger, Gilbert Douglas and Milla Davenport.

Scenes showing mountain cabins of Adirondack massiveness, a Fifty avenue home, and exteriors at Big Bear lake are included in the photoplay.

How to Remove Tobacco Stains from Teeth

—In Just Three Minutes

Thousands of people now use a marvelous new treatment to remove tobacco and other stains from their teeth. This wonderful scientific discovery, called Bleachodent Combination, bleaches even the darkest teeth white in three minutes—leaving them amazingly clean and lustrous. The very first application brings really wonderful results. It consists of a mild, safe liquid and a special kind of paste. The liquid instantly curdles and softens the stains while the paste gently removes them, and if used daily prevents the formation of future stains. Bleachodent Combination is fine for children's teeth. Those "candy stains" and "green spots" dissolved away quickly and safely. Cannot affect enamel as it's safe, mild ingredients act only on surface stains—not on enamel itself. Tobacco stains disappear almost while you wait. No excuse now for dull, yellow, dark, discolored teeth. Get Bleachodent Combination today. Two months' supply for only a few cents.

Note: Do not expect Bleachodent Combination to whiten a tooth darkened by a silver filling, as this discoloration goes below the surface of the enamel, and while the mild action of Bleachodent Combination will instantly whiten dark yellow, stained teeth, it cannot be expected to remove stains which are part of the enamel itself, as it has no effect on the enamel in any way.

Mr. T. D. Watson, Editor, Glendale, Calif.

Dear Mr. Watson:

I think your suggestion in last night's Press, in regard to a street car line on Wilson avenue, is an excellent one and I have already heard a number of favorable comments. It would be a great thing for the Wilson-San Fernando corner. Let me know if I can help boost for it.

Yours truly,

COMMUNITY PLAYERS HAVE DELIGHTFUL DANCING PARTY

Glendale Community Players and their friends enjoyed a most delightful Christmas dancing party Wednesday night at the club hall, 1428 South San Fernando road. The Community Players' six-piece orchestra made its first public appearance and provided music for dancing. At 10:30 o'clock Santa Claus appeared during the grand march and distributed little Christmas gifts to every one. During the evening delicious punch was served.

It was decided that rehearsals for a musical comedy will begin at the next Community Players' club meeting, to be held on January 2, from 7:30 o'clock until 8:45. There will be an informal dancing party from 9 o'clock until 11. The committee in charge of arrangements for this social affair includes Mrs. Almena Bullock, Lois Whiteman, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. Martinez and Ed. Shockley.

Rehearsals on the musical comedy will be held every Wednesday night. This will be followed by a dancing party on the first and third Wednesday. There are to be three groups of dancers in the musical comedy. They will be trained by Mrs. Edna Graham, who has just completed five years of professional stage work in New York and Chicago.

Mrs. Nanno Woods, director of the Community Players, extends a cordial invitation to all interested, particularly to the newcomers to Glendale, to be present at the club meetings, where they will be cordially welcomed.
